Holiday entitlement and pay:	Under the Working Time Regulations the Temporary Worker is entitled to 5.6 weeks' paid leave per leave year (28 days for a person who normally works 5 days/week, 22.4 days if work 4 days per week, 16.8 days if a regular 3 day week). Entitlement to Annual Leave is Health & Safety Legislation and governs the statutory and entitled periods of rest; therefore this is why we accrue and Pay Annual leave in units of time. This is because PROMAN must demonstrate an Agency

Worker has accrued and taken their statutory entitlement (minimum 5.6 weeks per year or proportion of) as per the Working Time Regulations 1998.

Regulation 13 of the Working Time Regulations 1998 states the entitlement to statutory holiday pay is to be based on a week's pay. Agency Workers under Contract for Services by definition have no obligation to attend, and PROMAN have no obligation to offer work therefore no working week is guaranteed. Also Agency Workers may have the opportunity to work on numerous contracts within a week on numerous pay rates; therefore there is no standard week or basic pay.

Thus Sections 221 to 224 of the Employment Rights Act 1996 state, if there is no set basic weeks' pay then the calculation for Annual Leave would be the average pay earned over a 52-week reference period. (52 paid weeks) as per Regulation 16 of the Working Time Regulations 1998 amended by the Employment Rights (Employment Particulars and Paid Annual Leave) (Amendment) Regulations 2018.
